

17. Participation in International Activities

The Republic of China is currently a full member of the Asian Development Bank (ADB), the Central American Bank for Economic Integration (CABEI), and the Conference of Governors of South East Asian Central Banks (SEACEN). The Bank attends the annual meetings, provides training courses, and hosts conferences so as to strengthen cooperation and relations with other member countries. In addition, the Bank also plays an active and extensive role in the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB), the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD), and the Bank for International Settlements (BIS), among other international financial organizations.

In April 2002, the Bank and the SEACEN Research and Training Centre, based in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, jointly held an international training course on market risk analysis in Taipei, where the U.S. Federal Reserve System, the Centre and the Bank jointly designed the program. Major topics discussed at the training course included general views on supervision and risk management, new capital accord development, identifying, measuring, supervising and controlling risk, wherein market risk and various other risks were covered. Special topics such as asset securitization, foreign exchange risk controls, and accounting for trading and capital market activities were also discussed.
